GolfVisions Management, Inc. Now Operating Lake Wales Country Club in Central Florida

Lake Wales, Florida – GolfVisions Management, Inc. has been retained by LWCC, LLC to operate Lake Wales Country Club, a private golf and tennis resort 50 miles south/southwest of downtown Orlando.

A Donald Ross-designed championship 18 is the focal point at Lake Wales, which has hosted numerous amateur and professional tournament qualifying events over the years. The Club's owner for the past 32 years, Ben Hill Griffin, Inc., finalized its sale of the property to LWCC, LLC on January 4.

GolfVisions, a professional golf management company based in Illinois, will lease Lake Wales Country Club from new ownership. GolfVisions currently operates two other central Florida courses, Green Valley Country Club in Clermont and the Club at Pennbrooke Fairways in Leesburg, as well as 17 courses in the greater Chicagoland area spanning Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

"GolfVisions is extremely pleased to be associated with the new ownership group and embraces the opportunity to operate a fabulous Donald Ross golf course in the heart of Florida," commented GolfVisions President and CEO Timothy J. Miles, Sr. "We trust the surrounding communities will welcome this transaction as representing progress for the Club and consistent with the longstanding traditions of Lake Wales Country Club."

The course at Lake Wales was built in 1926 and features classic Ross design elements, such as small, challenging greens and contoured bunkering, set amidst a distinctive Florida landscape. It is the focal point of the Club, which also offers Tennis and Social memberships. Said Richard Klaas, a principal of LWCC, LLC, "I am very proud to be the new Owner of Lake Wales Country Club. I have every confidence that GolfVisions will carry on the tradition of friendliness espoused by the Ben Hill Griffin family and take the Club to new heights."

The decision to sell Lake Wales was a difficult one, noted Ben Hill Griffin III, Chairman of the Board and CEO of Ben Hill Griffin, Inc. Added Griffin, "It was only my complete confidence in the integrity and professional ability of the new owner and GolfVisions that allowed me to make that decision."
